Useful information about privacy and the bank's processing of personal data can be found on the bank's websites and as a separate attachment under "General Terms" in your customer agreement with the bank.

3.1 Consent to electronic marketing

I would like to receive advice and offers digitally

Yes  No

To help us provide advice and offers tailored to your needs via digital channels, we need your consent to electronic marketing. This does not mean that we will contact you more often; it simply means that our communication will be more relevant to you. You can change your consent preferences at any time via your online bank or mobile bank.

Your consent means that you can receive advice and offers via digital channels on products offered by us and our subsidiaries and product companies in SpareBank 1. Examples of digital channels include email, our apps that you use, your online bank, your mobile bank, and SMS. You will find more information regarding privacy and personal profiles on our web pages.

3.2 Consent to information sharing

I would like SpareBank 1 to understand my needs

Yes  No

To help us tailor our advice and offers to your needs, the companies in SpareBank 1 would like to share and use the information we hold about you. Your information may be stored in a SpareBank 1 customer database, but will not be given to others. To do this we need your consent. You can change your consent preferences at any time via your online bank or mobile bank..

Your consent covers the sharing and use of all the available information SpareBank 1 holds about you, except for health information and other special categories. The information may be shared between your bank and its subsidiaries (e.g. Eiendomsmegler 1), between your bank and its product companies (e.g. SpareBank 1 Forsikring) and between SpareBank 1's product companies. You will find an overview of these companies on our web pages or under "Settings – About me". The information may be stored in SpareBank 1's customer database, but will not be given to any third parties outside the SpareBank 1 companies. Information will not be shared between the various banks in SpareBank 1.

Your bank and the companies you have a customer relationship with will be responsible for processing your information.

The aim of sharing your customer information is to help us provide you with advice and offers across the range of product categories we offer, for example savings, loans, payment systems and insurance. Your consent covers the exchange of the information available about you. This includes both in-depth information such as transaction and holdings information, as well as information about how you use SpareBank 1's services such as apps, your online bank/mobile bank, and our websites. We use personal profiles to tailor our offers to your needs. Use of personal profiles means that we combine information about you, and based on these, link certain assumptions to your behaviour, abilities, preferences or needs. Read more about personal profiles and how SpareBank 1 processes personal information on the bank's website under "Privacy" or "Personvern".

5. Definitions in connection with section 1.2 "tax liability"

A) Tax liability in Norway vs. abroad:

Persons who live in Norway or stay in Norway for more than 183 days over a 12-month period or more than 270 days over a 36-month period are deemed to be resident in Norway for tax purposes and thus liable to tax in Norway. A person may be resident for tax purposes in several countries, based on the laws and rules in each country.

B) When is a person liable to tax in another country?

Tax liability is assessed primarily based on tax residence (where you live or stay). However, every country has its own rules for how tax residence is determined. Information on the rules for tax residence in individual countries is available on the OECD website.

If you are unsure how tax residence is determined, contact a tax adviser or a local tax office.

C) Tax identification number (TIN):

A Tax Identification Number (TIN) or equivalent number is a unique combination of letters and/or numbers issued by a country to a person. This is used to identify the person in connection with tax reporting. Not all countries issue such numbers and some have different types of number or method for identification for tax reporting.

Examples of tax identification numbers for private individuals:

Denmark: CPR-number	Sweden: Personal identity number or coordination number
Norway: Personal identity number or D number	USA: Social Security Number

More detailed information on the various TINs is available on the OECD website

6. Definitions in connection with section 1.3 "politically exposed person"

High-ranking public office or position means:

1. Heads of state, Prime minister, Minister or Deputy Minister/Parliamentary Secretary.
2. Members of Parliament, including permanent or ongoing deputy representatives.
3. Leader/member of executive committee in a political party represented in Parliament (Executive Board, Central Board or corresponding high-ranking body according to the party's articles of association).
4. Members of superior judicial authorities, the decisions of which are not subject to further appeal, except in exceptional circumstances, for example:
  - Supreme Court judges, temporary and permanent appointments.
  - Appellate Court judges (applies to both temporary and permanent appointed in the courts system, not lay judges/associate judges).
5. Judges in international courts, e.g. The European Court of Human Rights, EFTA Court and International Court of Justice (ICJ).
6. Members of the Board of the office of the Auditor General, National Audit Office or of the Boards of central banks, for example: - Member or Deputy Member of the collegium of the Office of the Auditor General
  - The Board of the Bank of Norway.
7. Ambassador of Chargé d'affaires (Consul not considered a PEP)
8. High-ranking officers in the armed forces (in Norway this means officers in ranks from major general/rear admiral) -
9. Members of administrative, management or supervisory bodies of state-owned enterprises.
  - The Board of Directors and CEO of state-owned enterprises.
    - "State-owned enterprises" are state enterprises that manage public duties which fall within public administration. The determining factor is whether it concerns a state authority, even though this is represented by a company. State-owned companies that do not carry out activities which include public administration fall outside of the definition.
    - Subsidiaries of such enterprises are not included, nor are self-owned institutions (typically foundations) that are financed partially or wholly by public funds.
    - Local enterprises, such as county authority and municipal enterprises are not included.
10. Directors, Board members or other persons in the senior management of an international organisation (non profit organisations are not included). I.e., a person who is nominated, appointed or employed by a government, ministry or minister in an international organisation established via entering into a formal international political agreement.
  - For example, such positions in EFTA, NATO and the UN.

"Close relations" means:

1. Close family members, including parents, spouses, registered partners, cohabitants and children, as well as children's spouses/registered partners/cohabitants. Adopted children equate to biological children. Siblings, foster children, stepchildren and step-parents are not covered by the definition.
2. Being a beneficial owner* jointly with a politically exposed person. One is a beneficial owner in a company where a PEP is also a beneficial owner.
3. Having a close business relationship (know co-worker) with a politically exposed person.
  - Being the sole beneficial owner* of a legal entity/company, which, in reality, was established for the benefit of a politically exposed person.
  - Know co-worker is also defined as persons that have a close business relationship with PEP. There may be circumstances where the degree of closeness between the customer and the politically exposed person is not evident in documentation, but other circumstances indicate that there must be business association and that this is known. For example, where a person acts as the beneficial owner of the customer. This person has numerous other business associations with a PEP in such a way that it is likely that the beneficial owner is a close business associate, also in the current context.
  - Close associations other than business associations are not included. For example, where the persons are members of the same political party or the customer has a regular lawyer who represents them in legal cases.

*Beneficial owners are persons that alone, or together with a close relation, own or control more than 25% of the stake or votes in a company/entity (special regulations apply to foundations, trusts and similar entities). For further clarifications of the definition of a beneficial owner, please refer to the Money Laundering Act and the Financial Supervisory Authority's guidelines to the Money Laundering Act.
